ADVERTISEMENTS

Beneath the great pines of the Westminster campus the realization of a lofty vision unfolds. Here four schools unite to promote growth "in wisdom, in stature, and in favor with God and man." From kindergarten to graduation, the Westminster student learns under the guidance of Christian ideals.

The founders' hopes for the campus are rapidly materializing. The recently completed administration building and the impressive plans for new dormitories testify that their hopes are being realized. Each year brings new growth and plans for even greater expansion in the future.

Westminster's physical surroundings reflect the faith of the trustees and faculty in a student body that will respond to their efforts by fulfilling their every expectation. Each September the ability of the student body is challenged, and each June it is recognized. The Westminster graduate knows that his diploma represents the school's genuine approval of his success in meeting high standards of education and character.

Although the high school students occupy separate buildings, the Girls' and Boys' Schools, their purposes are identical. Every student strives to develop an intelligent curiosity that will always seek perfection. The 1962 Lynx presents the shared experiences which unite the students in their endeavor. It pictures the fun, the aspirations, and the accomplishments that have formed an unforgettable epoch of their lives.

ALMA MATER

In wisdom, stature, love for man, And grace from God above, We give our arms, our hearts, our minds, Our alma mater's goal to find. Westminster, praise we thee. Westminster, praise we thee. And as we leave these halls behind, These friendships of our youth, We breathe our prayer of gratitude And forward go with faith renewed. Westminster, love we thee. Westminster, love we thee.

ADMINISTRATION

The President of the Westminster Schools

Under the leadership of Dr. William L. Pressly, The Westminster Schools have achieved national eminence among independent schools. With indefatigable energy, he has created here a climate which demands academic excellence with spiritual and emotional maturity.

In 1951 Dr. Pressly came to the then small Westminster campus with every promise of developing an outstanding institution. Having been graduated from Princeton with honors in English, then the recipient of the Master of Arts degree from Harvard University, Dr. Pressly became head of the Department of English of the McCallie School of Chattanooga, Tennessee. Named Associate Headmaster of the school in 1947, the following year the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters was conferred upon him by Washington and Lee University. Before coming to Westminster Dr. Pressly served as Co-Headmaster of McCallie. During his years of service in the field of secondary education, Dr. Pressly has held, with enthusiasm and ability, voluntary posts with many organizations each dedicated to the promulgation of the finest principles of education.

Dr. Pressly's hand has helped to guide the lives of the students on this campus from the first uncertain steps into the unknown and unexplored to the world of maturity and understanding. To Dr. Pressly's unceasing efforts each student who has had the privilege of association with this school, owes his opportunity to learn to deal with the rhreatening world of tomorrow. In a sense, each student who attends the Westminster Schools is placing his future in the hands of Dr. Pressly. This act is a powerful challenge, but Dr. Pressly has made an equally powerful response.

Beginning his busy day with an early morning hike, Dr. Pressly can often be seen rushing from one school to the other. However, he is always ready with warm and practical advice for any anxious student, parent, or faculty member. At this breathtaking pace, Dr. Pressly still maintains time in his schedule for his family: his wife, the former Alice McCallie, and their two sons: Paul, a sophomore at Princeton, and Bill, a senior at Westminster.

Constantly striving to send from this school the finest of young Christian men and women, Dr. Pressly has come to have a pride in the school which feels such a deep pride in him.

FACULTY

The Westminster School for Boys and The Westminster School for Girls offer a program of parallel education supplemented by access of pupils of one school to classes of the other school, especially in language, mathematics, and science. The faculty of each school works directly under the leadership of a principal and teaches in cooperation with the departmental programs of the other faculty. Advanced placement work and regular classes are taught at all grade levels. Each of the five classes, Sub-freshman, Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior, in each school has a faculty adviser who leads a guidance program for the individual boy or girl. All student organizations are provided the leadership of a faculty adviser.

The LYNX presents the two faculties together in order to congratulate them on their splendid leadership and to show the combined academic program of the school.

THE ARTS

A program of music, art, and dancing is provided mainly on an elective basis. The art classes enjoy both painting and ceramics. All eighth graders are required to study one semester of music after which history, theory, and appreciation may be taken. The Chorale provides music for all special occasions. The band, organized this year, adds much to athletic events. During the afternoon athletic period a class of modern dance is a favorite of many girls.

The Westminster School for Boys

The 1961-62 school year has been a year of change for Westminster. For the first rime students were able to use and enjoy the facilities of the Administration Building. But this year has been a year of change in other ways.

The attitude of the students at Westminster is changing; a more scholarly atmosphere now prevails on campus. A person is not judged so much by popularity as by how hard he works and what he is able to accomplish. The members of the student body are realizing that preparation is the key to success in later life and are using the facilities Westminster makes available to them to a greater and greater degree in order to achieve this preparation.

Westminster students are realizing that they have something which they may never know again. This is a unique faculty-student relationship which goes deeper than the mere teacher-pupil status so often found. Students are able to experience an honest exchange of ideas with their classmates and their instructors, and through this exchange they are able to realize the wisdom in the faculty guidance offered them.

A new channeling of energies has become evident. Incidents which have marred school years in the past are noticeably absent, and a great deal more is being done by the service clubs. Club membership carries more responsibility than ever before and entails activities both for self-betterment and the betterment of the community.

Hard work has become the key to Westminster's athletic success. Westminster has not won because of any certain outstanding players but because of teamwork. This teamwork has not come easily; rather, it has come through the sacrifice and determination of the members of the student body and coaches alike. In the area of sportsmanship the members of the various teams and the student body as a whole have made for themselves a reputation of which they can be proud.

The changes which took place in the 1961-62 school year helped make Westminster a better school. May such changes and their results continue.

RAT WEEK

Under the watchful eyes of senior rat masters Bill Arant and Dudley King, the sub-frosh endured their annual induction process. Each upperclassman showed wonderful ingenuity in devising various tasks for his eighth-grade understudy. During the week before homecoming, small fry were observed counting the number of tiles in the hall floor, serenading Mrs. Collins at the Hut, and proposing marriage to several select coeds. Mark Arnold and Billy Rothschild won homecoming kisses for themselves and their seniors, Bob Adams and David Meriwether. As exemplified by the types portrayed on this page, the costumed rodents had plenty of fun during their "ordeal."

"I just want to be let alone."

CAKE RACE

Coach Koshewa's traditional endurance test which allows students to flex their muscles and fill their stomachs in one operation was run on schedule. The cake race aroused enthusiasm among both spectators and participants. Most of the crowd, including several hungry faculty members, observed the spectacle in hopes of sharing in the spoils. The class I division was won by Freshman Peter Culver. Kirk Rankin captured first in the upper class division. Master of ceremonies Koshewa presented cakes to the first ten place winners in each class. Something should be said about Bob Adams who placed fourteenth out of fourteen contestants, but we can't figure out what.

SLAVE AUCTION

In a repeat of last year's classic farce, the tightfisted sophomores were again forced to mount the auction block as the consequence of having contributed the least amount of money towards the Child's Home Drive. Everyone eventually got into the act as auctioneers Brake, Drake, Patton, and Koshewa raised prices and emptied purses. When enrhusiasm among the buyers died down, the popular two-for-one system was initiated. As usual syndicates and countersyndicates were formed. Groups bid furiously for choice slaves as the sophomores were thrown to the lions. Sly faculty members cautiously roamed through the crowd making key bids in an attempt to manipulate the slave market. John Montgomery and Steve MacKenzie, two prime purchases, became the reluctant servants of a corporation headed by Joe Harris. As the bidding subsided, various other antics increased. A trio of slaves bellowed out selected Christmas carols beneath the G. S. study hall and Virlyn Moore was seen dancing with Santa Claus. Despite the suffering and agnoy of the sophomores, over $150 was netted for the Christmas fund and each slave-holder got his money's worth.

FACULTY-SENIOR DUEL

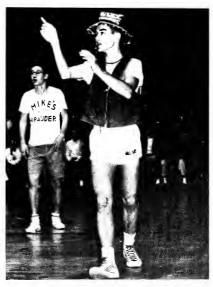

Despite predictions of a faculty upset in the yearly Child's Home clash, the senior roundballers were soundly defeated. Pre-game spirit ran high among the various all-star squads. The Aardvarks, Marauders, Teacher Teasers, and Self-Hoods could already taste the fruits of victory when they confidently stumbled onto the court. However, with the taunting remarks of sports-caster Drake ringing in their ears, the flashy-uniformed upperclassmen soon realized they had met their match. Hor-shot Harmon and Crazy-legs Kiesler led the faculty in field goals and shady tactics. During half-time ceremonies, Mr. Patton, Mr. Wright, and Mr. Gaebelein were recognized and awarded for their ten-year record with the senior opposition. Even with a couple of dozen players and three baskerballs on the court, the all-stars failed to close the gap during the second half. The faculty walked away with the ball game, and the gate receipts were added to the Child's Home fund.

WILDCATS RETAIN REGION CROWN

Finish Second In State With 10-2 Record

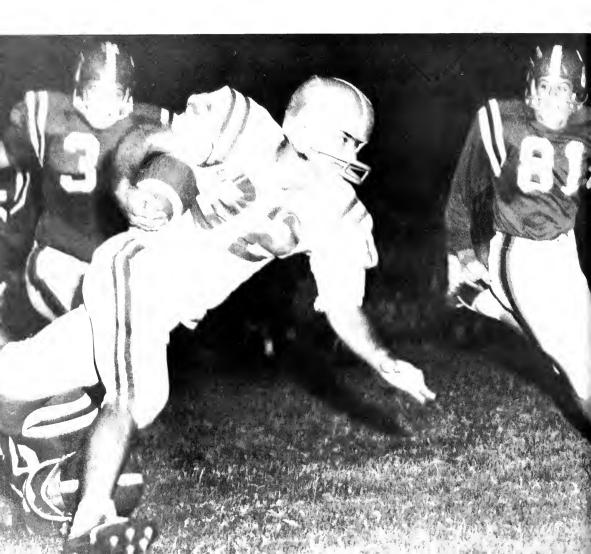

Westminster's 1961 Wildcats fought the most successful campaign in school history, ripping through Campbell of Fairburn 25-13 to retain the Region 2-AA Championship. Flashing a 10-2 record, the Cats finished second in the state behind Waycross, losing a revenge match 7-0 to the AA kings.

The powerful Wildcats scored 283 points, while the opposition could accumulate only 74. An ominous offense averaged 284 yards per game and a savage defense limited opponents to 144 yards per game.

End and Captain Pat Hodgson was selected AA Lineman of the Year and was nominated to the National High School All-America team. End Richard Rosebush and center Mike Maddox received All-State Honorable Mention, as did fullback Johnny Martin, who rushed for 1203 yards, and quarterback Mal Dunlevie, who ran and passed for 1008 yards.

Head Coach Charlie Brake has compiled a 35-9-1 record for the past four years. He and his assistants, Buck Chapman, Joe Williams, and Dave Drake, have earned the chance to compete with the best AAA can offer.

MARIST

The Wildcats made it three straight over the AAA Marist Cadets with a 19-6 season-opening victory at Westminster. The Rutledge-trained Green capitalized on a Cadet fumble in the first quarter to pull ahead 6-0. Johnny Martin bulled to the three and Mal Dunlevie scored on the next play. Early in the second period the Cats struck again, this time on a 46-yard aerial bomb from Dunlevie to Hodgson. Dunlevie registered the final score on a seven-yard tour around left end. Sam Kellett, with eight individual tackles, and Woody Hill, with five, sparked the tenacious Wildcat defense.

GAINESVILLE

The Gainesville Red Elephants humbled the high flying Wildcat AAA killers 28-6 in a fiasco played at Westminster. Scoring on romps of 67, 34, 41, and 12 yards, Gainesville backs sped unmolested through the Wildcat defense which, only a week before, had disringuished itself against Grady. On defense the Red Elephants were equally potent. The lone Westminster score was turned in by linebacker Don Leslie, who raced 43 yards with an intercepted pass to ruin Gainesville's shutout.

GRADY

The Wildcats chewed up their second straight AAA opponent, defeating Grady at Westminster in a pugnacious defensive contest. The Grey Knight pugilists quickly learned that their intimidation tactics were failing, as the incensed Wildcat line pounded them into submission. Johnny Martin put Westminster on the scoreboard in the third quarter, sprinring 55 yards for the touchdown. Midway rhrough the final period Mal Dunlevie fired a 32-yard pass to Bobby Adams to give the Wildcats a 12-0 advantage. Kellett, Hodgson, Hill, Maddox, and Arnold deserve special credit for their brilliant line play.

SANDY SPRINGS

In their first region game of the season, the Wildcats came from behind to edge Sandy Springs 14-7. The alert Panthers turned a Westminster fumble into a first period score, but the Cat defense, once again sharp, sidetracked the Sandy Springs offense for the rest of the evening. Rallying in the second quarter, the Wildcats scored twice, once on the ground and once through the air. Johnny Martin, who accumulated 106 yards rushing, evened the score, then Mal Dunlevie and Pat Hodgson collaborated to put Westminster ahead. Kellett, Hodgson, Hill, and Arnold stood out on defense.

DOUGLAS COUNTY

Held scoreless in the first half, Westminster exploded for 33 points in the second half to trample Douglas County in a region game at Douglasville. Johnny Martin gained 137 yards, including touchdown gallops of 40 and 25 yards. Bobby Adams added six with a 75-yard punt return, and David Dodd hauled in a Dunlevie aerial for another touchdown. Mal Dunlevie accounted for the final score on a one-yard sneak. The defensive unit, featuring outstanding play by Kellett, Bryan, Croft, Hodgson, and Hill, registered its second shutout of the campaign.

Bobby Adams crossed the goalline once, while Mal Dunlevie contributed two scores, as did Pat Hodgson, who scooped in a pair of touchdown tosses, one from Dunlevie and one from Mike Rogers. Hodgson, Hill, and Kellett led the shutout-minded defensive crew.

HEADLAND

The Wildcats of Westminster claimed their fifth consecutive region victim by humiliating Headland 34-0. Dunlevie and Martin provided the offensive impetus, and Hodgson, Kellett, Hill, Croft, and Arnold slammed the brakes on the Highlanders. Mal Dunlevie scored once and heaved two six-pointers to Richard Rosebush. Johnny Martin's 142-yard effort was good for two touchdowns. By defeating Headland the Wildcats set up a final-game showdown with Milton for the Region 2-AA North Championship.

Adams fielded a punt and picked his way 45 yards for one score, and Petters covered 40 yards with an intercepted pass for another six. Campbell exploded for a touchdown early in the first period, but Mal Dunlevie hit Richard Rosebush with a 30-yard scoring strike to even the score. The Wildcats struck again with a touchdown march climaxed by a three-yard slant by Johnny Martin. On the next play from scrimmage the Bears retaliated, this time via a 72-yard pass play. With 13 seconds remaining in the half, Dunlevie broke the tie with a 48-yard heave to Pat Hodgson. Westminster added six more in the fourth quarter. His receivers covered, Dunlevie scampered 25 yards to the five. Martin crashed into the end zone on the next play to make the count 25-13.

WAYCROSS

The Wildcats traveled to Waycross to challenge the Bulldogs for the South Georgia Championship and avenge last season's humiliating 33-0 defeat. Though two of Georgia's most explosive offenses were represented, it was immediately apparent that the game was a ferocious battle of formidable defenses. Waycross punched over a second-quarter touchdown, then stopped a Westminster drive on the ten yard line to triumph 7-0. The entire defensive line of Hodgson, Hill, Croft, Arnold, Maddox, Rosebush, and Kellett deserve praise for a superb effort.

WILDCATS EARN STATE TOURNAMENT BERTH

Fall to Headland 47-44 in Region 2-AA Finals

Coach Emmett Wright's 1961-1962 baskerball varsity became the first in school history to earn a berth in the state tournament. The Wildcats, 21-3 in regular season play, will carry a 26-7 overall record into the tournament.

This season's squad averaged 55.4 points a game, while limiting the opposition to only 42.1 a game. These figures almost duplicate last year's statistics of 55.9 and 41.1. Both Allan Johnson, with 442 points, and freshman Jim Bostick, with 434 points, will undoubtedly break Robert Blackwood's season record of 448 established last year. Bostick has already eclipsed McKee Nunnally's single-game mark of 34 with a 36-point display of marksmanship against Douglas County.

The Wildcats broke 60 eleven times this season, and scored over 70 on five occasions. In one three-game stretch the prolific Green poured in a record 225 points. The squad demonstrated its defensive prowess in the region tournament by holding a usually porent Newnan offense to 20 points.

Although Johnson and Bostick, with 13.8 and 13.6 averages, are Westminster's biggest offensive weapons, nine players have reached double figures, six of whom are capable of contributing 20. This valuable balance has made it impossible for opponents to sidetrack the Wildcat offense by concentrating on Johnson and Bostick.

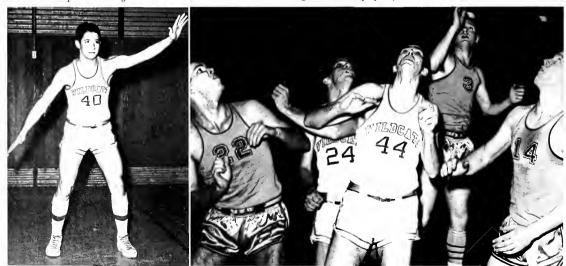

Kneeling: Stallings, Arthur, Worley, Hodgson, Captain; Simmons, Kramer, Moore. Standing: Dunlevie, manager; Rosebush, Johnson, Arnold, Bostick, Coach Wright.

The Wildcats opened the season with a home-away split with Forest Park, then, en route to an eleven game winning streak, chopped down four sub-region foes. Over this thirteen-game span center Allan Johnson led the point barrage with a 16.7 average. Freshman forward Jim Bostick, consistently hitting in double figures, contributed performances of 16, 17, and 18 points.

On five occasions Westminster broke the 60-point barrier. Against South Hall, sparked by Ross Atnold's 19, the Wildcats poured in 71 points. In addition to sub-region victories over Milton, Sandy Springs, Hapeville, and Douglas County, the Green polished off three AAA opponents, Dykes, Grady, and West Fulton.

The Wildcats optimistically invaded the O'Keefe Gym over the Christmas holidays to participate in the Atlanta Invitational Jaycee Tournament, but humbly departed after dropping two of three games. After boosting their record to 12-1 by tripping West Fulton 46-32 in the first round, the Green fell 46-47 to upset-minded R. E. Lee. In the consolation game the ill-fated Wildcats fared no better, losing to Brown 55-57.

After New Year's the Westminster cagers played ten consecutive sub-region games, winning eight and losing two, both to Headland, defending AA State Champions. Following a 47-32 drubbing at the hands of the Highlanders, the Wildcats embarked on the most tortid scoring binge in school history, accumulating 225 points in three games. Against Lakeshore five Cats hit in double figures as the team piled up 75 points. Scoring 22, Richard Rosebush sparked a 79-39 slaughter of College Park, and in a 71-45 triumph over Douglas County Jim Bostick hit on 15 of 17 attempts from the floor and six of seven free throws to establish a new school record. Headland cooled the Wildcats off with a 54-38 victory, but the Green rebounded to capture five straight, firing in 73 against College Park and 67 against Hapeville.

In the sub-region tournament Westminster plowed through College Park and Sandy Springs, but bowed again to Headland. The script was the same in the region tourney in which the Wildcats, playing their finest game of the season, thrashed Newnan 55-20, then edged Troup County 40-39 before dropping a sec-saw battle 44-47 to Headland in the Region 2-AA finals.

Co-captains Sam Stivers, Region 2-AA mile champion, and Jeff Galloway, Westminster's two finest distance runners, led the squad to victories over Avondale, Sprayberry, McCallie, Druid Hills, Riverside, Cross Keys, and Chamblee. The Wildcats have won thirty consecutive regular-season meets over a period of three years. The team, in addition, earned fourth place in the Troy, Alabama Invitational Meet.

Aurell Scores 20 Goals, Leads Wildcats to 9-2 Season

Coach Sims' 1961-1962 varsity soccer team, unquestionably the strongest ever produced by Westminster, posted a 9-2 record. During the first two weeks of the season the Wildcats, playing a heavy schedule, collected five straight victories, including two over Riverside, two over Emory-at-Oxford, and one over traditional rival McCallie. The pace eased somewhat and the Cats added two leisure victories over Lovett and Baylor to their undefeated record. Darlington of Rome spoiled Westminster's unblemished slate with a 3-2 setback. Incensed, the Green eleven clobbered Lovett again and then Indian Springs. Traveling up to Rome for a rematch, the outcome was the same, with the Wildcats on the short end of another 3-2 verdict.

Westminster's slick offense, which averaged 4.8 goals a game, operated around Lief Aurell, the talented Swedish exchange student who booted 20 goals from his center forward position. Other line standouts were Tommy Claiborne and Co-captain David Meriwether. Co-captain Mike Maddox, Lloyd Timberlake, and Tom Meriwether provided the team with backfield strength.

The Westminster matmen defeated Riverside, Tucker, Dykes, Chamblee, and Lovert once and North Fulton rwice to earn a 7-4-1 record.

The Wildcats, plagued by costly injuries and illnesses to five top performers, Anderson, Chanin, Ackerman, Arant, and Miles, recruited the services of three soccer players, Mike Maddox, Laurie Croft, and Randy Bryan, a basketball manager, Mal Dunlevie, and a football star, Johnny Martin.

Jimmy Funk, with a 9-1 record, received most valuable honors, and first-year man Marshall Schreeder was named most improved. Peter Chanin (95-lb. class) and Bill Arant (154-lb. class) took fourth places in the state tournament.

Allen McDonald Bids for All-American Status

Coach Pete Higgins' swimming team, although hard-hit by graduation, has compiled a 10-1 record. The Wildcats have a meet with G.M.A. remaining which will be a preview of the State Meet. The Westminster swimmers have registered victories over Riverside, McCallie, Baylor, Athens, Tuscaloosa, and the freshmen teams of Georgia, Georgia Tech, and Alabama. The Wildcats placed first in the Metropolitan Atlanta Meet, third in the Southeastern Interscholastic, and fifth in the Southern Interscholastic.

The ream's ourstanding swimmer, Allen McDonald, is a sure bet to attain All-America status this year for his times in the 200- and 400-yard freestyle. All-American Dudley King has also shouldered a large portion of this year's burden.

Westminster's only defeat was to the North Carolina Freshman team, which includes numerous ex-Wildcat stars such as Harrison Merrill and Sloan Creveling.

Pat Hodgson, Taylor Branch, Joe Harris, and newcomer to the squad Chunk Smith give the Wildcats the pitching depth they need to supplement their hitting.

With Worley, Arthur, and Kramer at third, short, and second, Westminster has one of Atlanta's most dependable infields.

Outfielders Simmons, Thurman, and Dunlevie.

TRACK TEAM EYES REGION and STATE CROWNS

Under the auspices of Coaches Koshewa and Holden, the varsity track team, defending Region 2-AA champion and State runner-up, has already produced many promising performances this year. In the Coliseum Relays at Montgomery, Alabama, Richard Weiss vaulted 12'2", establishing himself as the favorite to place first in the State Meet. Jeff Galloway turned in a new Westminster indoor mile record, covering the distance in 4:45. During the regular season, Galloway will compete in the halfmile run.

This spring the Wildcats will enter the Florida Relays, the Roswell Relays, the DeKalb Relays, the Piedmont Relays, and the Westminster Relays. Last season the thinclads placed first at Piedmont and second at Westminster.

Sam Stivers and Jimmy Thompson, Region 2-AA champions and record holders in the mile and quarter mile respectively, have a good chance to capture these events in the State. Thompson will also compete in the shorter sprints. The field events will be handled by Johnny Martin, Lief Aurell, George Lawson, and Barry Vaught. Additional distance and middle-distance runners include Norman Miller, Lief Aurell, Jimbo Heiskell, and Bill Siems. Spencer Atwater, John Gamel, John Turman, Latry Edge, Bill Arant, and Richard Hurt will help take care of the sprints and hurdles.

HONOR COUNCIL

The purpose of the Honor Council is to keep student integrity on a high level and maintain student standards of honor. The members of this organization keep the provisions of the honor code in their classmates' minds with constant reminders in the form of homeroom and assembly talks.

The honor code states that all students are honor bound to refrain from lying, cheating, or stealing, and that any student with knowledge of a violation of the honor code is honor bound to report this violation. This year the student body as a whole has become more conscious of its responsibilities than ever before. Guiding rather than disciplining is the aim of the honor council. Violations of the honor code are brought to its attention, and suggestions are made to the administration as to what steps should be taken.

HONOR COUNCIL OFFICERS—Sitting: David Meriwether and Kip Kirk-patrick, co-presidents. Standing: Don Leslie, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Gaebelein, faculty advisor.

Mr. Gaebelein is the Honor Council faculty advisor. The co-presidents are Seniors Kip Kirk-patrick and David Meriwether. Don Leslie serves as secretary-treasurer. The remaining representatives are Johny Martin, junior; Emory Waters and John Lert, sophomores; Richard Pugmire and Jim Tatman, freshmen; and Sam Fuller, subfreshman.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a student organization the purpose of which is to represent the student body in all civic affairs, to serve as a governing board and as a service council, and to serve as a link between the student body and the faculty. It also assumes responsibility for the Wednesday morning assembly programs and the handling of the Quality Point System.

The Atlanta Child's Home drive is the most important Student Council project. Among the activities planned by the Council and included in the Child's Home Drive are the Faculty-Senior basketball game, Duds Day, and the complete confusion known as the Slave auction. This year the student body contributed $1250 to the Home, a major part of which came from the sale of the sophomores.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS—Sitting: Paul Worley and Richard Weiss, Co-presidents. Standing: Bob Adams, Member-at-large; Mr. Flowers, Faculty Advisor; Allan McDonald, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Student Council was headed this year by Co-presidents Paul Worley and Richard Weiss, the two Senior representatives. Bob Adams was the Student Council member-at-large, having been elected by the entire student body. Each of the other classes elected two representatives. They were: John Sibley and Allan McDonald, Junior members; Taylor Branch and Bruce Logue, Sophomore members; Jim Bostick and Charles Cotton, Freshman members; and Steve Dunlevie and Doug Bryant, Sub-freshman members. Mr. Flowers was the Council's faculty advisor.

Lynx Best Yet

As usual most of the annual was pieced together during the last two weeks before the deadline. Despite the rush, the boys' staff considers the Lynx to be the best yet. Bill Pressly, the world's worst typist and chief editor, made a commendable attempt to limit the last minute confusion. Aided by Jimmy Thompson, second worst typist, and Mal Dunlevie, whose picture you can spot on every other sports page, Editor Pressly converted his brother's room into a publications office for use by the staff members. Several forlorn individuals were roped into assisting the above mentioned trio. Vernon Kyle and G. Wardlaw, when they didn't put their film in backwards, turned our some fair photography. Dick Morawetz proved invaluable in helping with work around the "office." Paul Worley contributed his literary talents to the project. Once again, Mr. Adams served as faculty advisor.

The 1962 edition of the Lynx has several new features. The organization pictures are more dignified and uniform. The underclass pages are neater and more presentable. Photographs of class officers are included for the first time. Additional informal, humorous, and candid shots are incorporated throughout the edition. This year's staff is leaving to its 1963 counterpart abundant aid and advice, plus three rooms in the new administration building dedicated to publications. The staff had a trying experience but, in the end, a rewarding one.

MARK SHEET STAFF—Sitting: Gregory, Dilworth, Griffin, Weiss, Dunlevie, Thompson, Schwartz, Morawetz, Avary. Standing: Barlow, Jones, Waite, Maddox, Bivins, Alexander, Ackerman, Stivers, Wilkinson, Rodgers, Vaught, Russell, Siems, Wolfe, Kyle, Both, Anderson, Wardlaw.

Mark Sheet Enlarges Issues

The Mark Sheet entered its seventh year of publication with an increased staff and larger issues. Led by co-editors Mal Dunlevie and Richard Weiss, the Mark Sheet expanded to sixpage issues which provided more comprehensive coverage of school activities.

Other staff members included Jimmy Nix, news editor; Brooks Griffin and John Dilworth, feature editors; Jimmy Thompson, sports editor; and Steve Avary, exchange editor. Financial affairs were handled by Dick Morawetz and Bill Schwartz, while circulation was the job of Bill Bivins and Bruce Gregory.

New additions in this year's paper included an expanded editorial page and a new feature page. Regular columns by the editors made their first appearance in the Mark Sheet. Wit and humor found expression on the feature page. Athletic news was fully covered on the sports pages.

Once again, the Mark Sheet owes much of its success to its faculty advisor, Mr. Rudolph.

Mal Dunlevie and Richard Weiss, co-editors; Mr. Rudolph, faculty advisor.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club this year has experienced a rebirth into usefulness. Under the faculty supervision of Mr. Rudolph, the club has become a true service organization. The usual weekly campus clean-up campaign was revitalized and extended to cover the entire school year. The duties of supervising the lunchroom and clearing the halls of books were continued. The club sponsored several dances and student assemblies. Some of the more artistic members provided the bulletin board with a monthly calendar of events. Key Club representatives supervised ticket sales at numerous school athletic events. The members of this Kiwanis organization are elected from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Dues are paid directly to the National Kiwanis branches. Bill Arant served as president, Gray Bethea as vice-president, David Dodd as secretary, and Skip Petters as treasurer.

"W" CLUB

The "W" Club is comprised of all students who have won a varsity letter in any sport. Under the faculty direction of Mt. Harry Lloyd, this campus group attempts to promote leadership and character among its members. Lettermen greeted visiting teams from other schools and obtained several athletic films which were shown at Wednesday assemblies. Early in the year a code of conduct was approved and adopted by the club's members. This organization also attempted to collect and compile past sports scores and records. Several club representatives attended the Fellowship of Christian Athletes conference at Chattanooga. Pat Hodgson served as president. Paul Worley was vice-president and David Dodd, secretary-treasurer. This year the "W" Club has assumed a higher responsibility in campus affairs.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, though not as active at the beginning of the year as it could have been, gained new strength the second semester with the talk given by Mr. Arthur Harris, the French consulate's Atlanta representative. He spoke on various aspects of French culture and some of the crucial problems facing President De Gaulle. The club's purpose is to stimulate greater interest in France and its culture. The officers were the following: Bill Pressly, president; Jeff Galloway, vice-presidenr; and Don Leslie, secretary-treasurer. Bill Schwartz served as program chaitman. The club's advisor was Mr. Adams.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club is opened to all students who take Spanish and are interested in learning more about the cultural background and atmosphere of the Spanish speaking countries. The one requirement is that all members must maintain an eighty average or better. The club elected David Meriwether as president and Shelton Simmons as secretary-treasurer. Under the guidance of Mr. Kenimer, the faculty sponsor, the Spanish Club had a Christmas "fiesta" and showed several cultural films during the year.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Westminster Science Club, now in its fourth year, has grown to a membership of fifty. Its aim, as prescribed by the Science Clubs of America, is to increase the appreciation and understanding of science within our student body. To further this goal it sponsored films and an assembly program. In the spring, the club took a bus trip to the Lockheed Aircraft Plant in Marietta and to the Corning Glass Works in Atlanta.

The officers this year are Jim Nix, president; Richard Weiss, vice-president; Bruce Gregory, secretary; and Woody Hill, treasurer. Mr. Sims again provided faculty leadership.

DEBATE CLUB

Richard Weiss, the president of the relatively new campus debating group, has successfully upheld the legacy of Jeff Titon, the debate club originator. Weiss and fellow seniors, Bill Schwartz, John Gamel, and John Dilworth have managed to rerain the club's reputation as a useful organization. Besides receiving valuable training in public speaking, the group's numbers competed with varying degrees of success in the Barkley Forum and State Debate. Mr. Alvin Neely serves as faculty advisor.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS CLUB

The Foreign Affairs Study Club is the newest group on campus. Its members meet every two weeks in order to keep informed on current happenings. The club conducted discussions, showed movies, and listened to reports on foreign affairs. This organization has the promise of a rewarding future. This year's officers were the following: Jeff Galloway, program chairman; Tyler Burge, planning chairman; and Norman Miller, secretary. Mr. Wright was faculty advisor.

History of the Class of 1962

This is the history of the "greatest class ever to graduate from Westminster." Yes, the class of 1962 has been petted and pummeled, begged and beaten until its statistics and scores have surpassed those of all previous classes; and it can now proudly claim the title as "the greatest ever." This is an attempt to describe briefly the growth of this class, to show how it has helped Westminster and how it has been helped.

When sixty-five eager rats rushed headlong into the five-year labyrinth that was to be their Westminster high school education, they little suspected that only half their group number would escape the pitfalls, snares, and blind alleys to stumble forth and receive their Westminster diploma. Led by class officers Pressly, Kellett, and Ackerman, the Class of '62 was confident of success. Meriwether, Ackerman, Pressly, and Worley quickly showed how easy academics were by leading the Honor Roll. The eighth grade football team, with Shackleford in the backfield and Arant on the line, was undefeated. In basketball the eighth grade breezed to a 9-1 record. Coaches Flowers and Bunnell guided both these teams through their successful campaigns. Also in athletics Sam Stivers began his notable career by being chosen Best Eighth Grade Athlete. In other fields the Class of 1962 was so cocky that Rat Kings Booth and King had to resort to emotional pleas for cooperation from the mutinous rats. The first of several winning Homecoming displays appeared, reminding the visiting Riverside team that Gainesville was the "Chicken Center of the World." So successful was this barb that the enraged Cadets soundly thrashed the Wildcats 25-6. Not all of the sub-freshman year was a delight, however. Many overconfident eighth graders suddenly awoke to the reality of Coach Flowers' Latin classes. And those few who conquered the conjugation and declension usually fell before "Jolly Jack" Groves and his English grammar. By the end of the year, fourteen sub-freshmen, including such notables as Richard Tretler, Franklin Allen, and Fred Schoenback, had departed for greener pastures.

As the Class of '62 returned to Westminster for its freshman year, it found several new faces in the ranks of the instructors. Messrs. Taylor, Davis, and Krepp added a youthful touch. Mr. Blake, with his music and his English accent, and Mr. Souren, with his violin and his soccer skills, were popular additions. Commander Galloway came to serve two highly successful years before moving to the Middle School. And Mr. Gaebelein, although not a new teacher, took over as principal, replacing Mr. Sumner Williams. Kippy Kirkpatrick began a two-year reign as class president while Beauchamp Carr assisted as secretarytreasurer. George Connell served his second of three years on the Student Council. Brooks Griffin emerged as a budding scholar as he joined Worley, Pressly and Meriwether at the top of the Honor Roll. In athletics, Bicknell, Kellett, Stivers, Jones and Arant served under Coaches Sims and Galloway on the J. V. Football team, while Mr. Taylor and Mr. Patton guided the ninth grade squad. Commander Galloway introduced his devastating five-man weave to help the ninth grade basketball team to a memorable season. Scott Ackerman and Gray Bethea began varsity wrestling careers. Joff Rees, Jeff Yancey, and Dudley King worked hard for Coach Krepp's swimming team. Sam Stivers began his four-year stint with the track team. In baseball Paul Worley joined Coach Patton's varsity squad. Three freshmen, Nix, Stivers, and Ackerman, displayed talent in other fields by serving in Mr. Blake's newly-formed chorus.

The sophomore year brought eighteen new members to the class of '62. Steve Avary, John Dilworth, Mike Russell, Scott Thompson and Richard Weiss all demonstrated exceptional academic ability. Woody Hill, Tommy Hills, and Herb Miles were destined to gladden Coach Brake's heart in the future. "Skippy" Gamel appeared to begin successful three year courses in theme writing and mind-rotting. New Sophomores came in all sizes, from big Allen Johnson to little Shelton Simmons. Mark Smith and Bill Siems brought their talents as music critics to enlighten the Sophomores. In the middle of the year, Pat Hodgson and Malcom Dunlevie appeared, bringing exceptional athletic ability to offset their unique humor. But not all the colorful, new personalities were students. There was Mr. Scott and his moustache and Mr. Kenimer and his jokes. Admiral ("shape up or ship out") Williams and "Wrong Way" Riegel gave the mathematics department a new look. Mr. Robert Demaree was a valuable addition to the Latin department.

Many outstanding leaders emerged during the Sophomore year. Kip Kirkpatrick was class president, assisted by Bill Arant, vice president and Student Council member. Scott Ackerman and Paul Worley served on the Honor Council. New faces on the High Honor Roll were Richard Weiss, Steve Avary and John Gamel. Sophomores on the Embryo and Mark Sheet staffs showed outstanding writing ability. In athletics, Jim Bicknell played varsity football while Arant and Adams were outstanding for the Junior Varsity. Allan Johnson, backed by Kirkpatrick, Adams, Worley, and Simmons, led the winning J. V. Basketball team. Ackerman, Bethea, and Gamel served on Coach Lauderdale's varsity wrestling squad. David Meriwether began his career on Mr. Sim's soccer team. Sam Stivers won letters in track and cross country. Bethea, Connell, and Neely played on the highly successful tennis team. Coach Koshewa's track team was strengthened by the efforts of Jimmy Thompson, Bill Arant, Spencer Atwater and other Sophomores. Hodgson, Dunlevie, Worley, Smith, and Adams were an important part of the baseball team. Newcomer Dunlevie was named to play on the Greater Atlanta All-Stars. Maddox and Proctor joined other Sophomores in Mr. Blake's chorus. Stivers, Nix, and Ackerman all won parts in the operetta given in the spring. The creative Class of '62 won the homecoming display for the third consecutive year. Further indication of class spirit was given when the Sophomores led the annual Child's Home Drive.

When the Class of '62 returned for their Junior year, they found that ten more of their classmates had departed, shrinking their number to fifty-three (a fact which helped explain the lack of enthusiasm on the part of the eighty-six Junior girls whenever class parties were mentioned). The Juniors also found they had a new grade chairman, Mr. Branch; a new English teacher, Mr. Neely; and a new mathematics instruction, Mr. Longshore. Several Juniors had trouble distinguishing between students and faculty, as their classmates grew older and the teachers became younger. A new policy of coats and ties on Fridays aided in the deception. Mr. Holden, Mr. Foster, and Mr. Higgins all were members of this faculty youth movement. In Mr. Lloyd, Coach Williams finally found another teacher who appreciated the fine art of chewing tobacco.

Members of the Class of '62 played important roles of leadership in all areas of school activities. Led by officers Bill Arant, Kip Proctor, and Shelton Simmons, the Juniors again placed first in the Atlanta Child's Home drive. In academics Dunlevie joined the Honor Roll as Juniors got their first taste of College Boards. Ralph McGill and John Gamel were steady contributors to the Embryo. Weiss, Nix, Pressly, Dunlevie, and Thompson continued budding literary careers by working on the Mark Sheet. Numerous Juniors joined Mr. Creech's chorale and helped contribute to the success of the spring tour in Florida. Richard Weiss and Bill Schwartz provided Junior leadership in the Debate Club. In athletics Hodgson, Miles, McGill, Maddox, Hills, Pressly, and Dunlevie led the football team to the Region title. Hodgson, Worley, and Simmons were members of the school's best basketball team. Bethea, Miles, Ackerman, and Arant grappled for Coach Lauderdale. Juniors on the powerful swimming team were Rees, Yancey, King, Ryckman, and Koelliker. Meriwether, Maddox, and Pressly aided in improving the soccer squad. Stivers continued to excel in track and cross country. Other Junior trackmen were Thompson, Weiss, Arant, Rogers, Atwater, and Gamel. Mr. Foster's tennis champions were strengthened by Juniors Bethea and Dilworth. The Baseball team depended heavily on Hodgson, Dunlevie, Adams, and Worley as it enjoyed its first winning season. Dunlevie again was recognized as a Greater Atlanta All-Star.

The Class of 1962 reached its greatest heights during its Senior year. Numbering fifty-four with the addition of Pat Malone, a real live Andover boy, and Leif Aurell, the Swedish flash who showed everyone how easy it was to make the Honor Roll, the Senior class excelled in all activities. Led by President Scott Ackerman, Vice-president Spencer Atwater, and Treasurer Jim Nix, it won the class drive for the Atlanta Child's Home for the third straight year. With the Senior teachers ever on the alert for a let-up by their students, academic demands increased. Dilworth, Weiss, Worley, Avary continued to place high on the Honor Roll. Richard Weiss was chosen as a Star Student. Twenty-one boys, or forty per cent of the Senior Class, were National Merit Finalists.

Seniors headed most of the school's activities. Weiss, Worley and Adams led the Student Council. Hodgson was president of the W-Club. Arant directed the Key Club. Meriwether was president of the National Honor Society. Jim Nix led the chorale, which depended heavily on Seniors. Gamel, McGill, Proctor, and Russell handled the Embryo. Weiss and Dunlevie were co-editors of the Mark Sheet. Wardlaw and Kyle turned into ace photographers overnight. Pressly, Dunlevie, Thompson, Morawetz, Wardlaw, and Kyle worked on the Lynx. David Meriwether and Kip Kirkpatrick were chosen to direct the Honor Council. Weiss organized numerous debating trips.

In athletics Seniors dominated the scene as the various teams enjoyed highly successful seasons. The football team won the region a second time as Seniors starred. Pat Hodgson was named to the All-State team, chosen AA Lineman of the Year, and nominated for the National High School All-American Team. Joining Hodgson on the Greater Atlanta All-Stars were quarterback Dunlevie and center Maddox. Woody Hill and Pat were chosen to play in the North-South All-Star Game in August. Other Seniors who participated in the football wars were Pressly, Miles, Atwater, Smith, Hills, Adams, Rogers and Harrison. The cross country team, paced by Stivers, Siems, Aurell, Gamel, and Thompson, had its third highly successful season. Coach Emmett Wright's roundballers surprised everyone, including themselves, by going all the way to the state tournament. Pat Hodgson, with his "archless wonders," and Allan Johnson, with his bird trills and wild ties, led the spirited squad. Shelton Simmons and Paul Worley were other Seniors whose efforts contributed to a successful basketball season. In soccer Coach Robert Sims, employing a two platoon system and importing players from as far away as Sweden, built a powerful team. Senior stalwarts, Griffin, Catts, McGill, Meriwether, Maddox, Thompson, Swanson, Malone, Dilworth, Aurell, and Kirkpatrick, provided Coach Sims with some happy moments. Particularly outstanding was exchange student Leif Aurell, who led the team in scoring. Wrestling increased in popularity as Ackerman, Arant, Bethea, Miles, Maddox, and Dunlevie served under Coach Lauderdale. Despite being plagued by injuries, illnesses, and a government probe of their wonder food, Nutri-Bio, the wrestlers made a creditable showing. Yancey, Rees, Ryckman, and King were Seniors on Coach Higgins' remarkable swimming team, which did not seem to suffer from the graduation of Harrison Merrill. Strong Senior support in spring athletics seemed to assure successful seasons for the track and baseball teams. Hodgson, Adams, Dunlevie, Worley and Smith worked hard for Coach Lloyd's baseball team. Outstanding Seniors on the track team were Weiss, Stivers, Thompson, Arant, Gamel, and Atwater. John Dilworth and Gray Bethea finished successful careers on the tennis team. Some Seniors were above strenuous athletics, however. Particularly popular was Malone's Senior Basketball Club. Others, led by Wilkinson, Bird, and Brady, preferred to match wits with the omnipresent Patton at 3:20 every day. Another favorite sport was teacher-baiting. Particularly successful in this activity were McGill, Harrison and Stewart. Russell, Waller, Alexander, and Griffin all lettered on Mr. Lauderdale's "bright boy" squad. Catts and Lake were unsuccessful in a move to organize a "Start the Year Over Again" Club. Each individual contributed in his own weird way to making the Class of '62 great.

Yet there were other, truer indications of the Seniors' greatness than individual accomplishments. For during the five years that the Class of 1962 developed at Westminster there were admirable changes in the school as a whole. Students were no longer considered "figs" if they studied during a free period. An outstanding music program developed. Boys were proud to be a member of the chorus. Student leadership in school affairs increased as the entire student body cooperated. The Honor Council found support growing every year. Finally, religious affairs became a more important part of student life. A Fellowship of Christian Athletes was organized, and students led more and more religious services. The Class of 1962 provided leadership in bringing about all these changes. Admittedly, such improvements were far from perfection; yet together they indicated a laudable trend of maturity at Westminster.

Yet all that the Class of 1962 has accomplished at Westminster is a very small "thank you" when compared to the gifts of its teachers, its families, its school, and its God.

This year's Junior Class, under the leadership of President Jeff Stallings. Vice-President Ross Arnold and Secretary-Treasurer Paul Wilgus, has shown great accomplishment in all areas of school life.

The publications and service organizations received a large measure of support from the Juniors. On the Mark Sheet staff Bruce Gregory and Bill Bivins served as circulation managers, while Billy Waite was on the news staff. In addition to these staff-members many Juniors contributed frequent articles. The school's literary organ, the Embryo, published many of the Junior's offerings. Some regulars were Howard Owens and Eaton Merritt. The Junior members of the Honor Council and Student Council were, respectively, Don Leslie and Johnny Martin, John Sibley and Allan McDonald.

Rosebush. Outstanding on the J. V. were Tyler Burge, Francis Jones, John Hurst, Jack Wotton, Bill Tift, David Bordner, and Matthew Smith. The Soccer team played Don Leslie, John Sibley, Charles Parham, Laurie Croft, Lloyd Timberlake, Bill Derry, Jack Holland, Kent Regenstein, Randy Bryan, and Harvard Whipple regularly. Junior first team wrestlers were Jimmy Funk, Tommy Haas, and Blake Wood.

The Juniors excelled in academics and extracurricular activities. Jeff Srallings, Tyler Burge, Don Leslie, Howard Owens, and John Sibley were the honor roll leaders. Jeff Galloway, Tyler Burge, Bruce Gregory, David Dodd, and Skip Petters were Juniors holding offices in organizations.

All of these achievements point toward a great future for the Class of 1963.

In athletic activities at Westminster the Junior class proved indispensable. Don Leslie, Johnny Martin, Sammy Kellett, David Dodd, Ross Arnold, Richard Rosebush, Skip Petters, Tommy Haas, Randy Bryan, and Laurie Croft were standouts on this year's championship football team. Many Juniors also played on the undefeated J. V. football team; such players as David Poer, David Bordner, Sterling Jernigan, Ned Kelly and Lloyd Timberlake were outstanding J. V. players and gave depth to the Varsity.

In other sports also Juniors figured prominently. On the Varsity Cross Country Team Jeff Galloway led the first seven runners, followed by Jim Heiskell and Norman Miller. Varsity Basketball boasted Jeff Stallings, Bobby Kramer, Ross Arnold and Richard

This year the Class of '64 has displayed its fine potential in athletics, academics, and leadership. Directing these efforts were Steve Arthur, president; George Lawson, vice-president; and Tommy Hanes, secretary-treasurer. The academic leaders included Ricky Wolfe, Randy Berry, Arthur Rudeseal, Gerry Ladd, Bob Thompson, Tommy Hanes, and Tommy Stewart. George Wiley took top honors the first semester.

The Sophomore Class had a part in all major clubs and councils, as well as school publications. In the Key Club were Lee Sessions, Tommy Hanes, Gardie Neely, Bruce Logue, Taylor Branch, Richard Hurt, and Steve Arthur. Emory Waters and John Lert were on the Honor Council, while Bruce Logue and Taylor Branch manned the Student Council positions. Paul Rogers, Tommy Stewart, Doug Barlow, Don Salo, and Jim Morawetz contributed to the Mark Sheet. The class also supported the Embryo, the Spanish Club, the French Club, the Science Club, and the W Club.

The sophomores prospered greatly in their athletic endeavors, being well represented on all varsity squads. Leading the football squad were Taylor Branch, Judson Simmons, and Jimmy Baria, along with white team members Ed Kneisel, Kirk Blackwood, Billy Thurman, Bruce Logue, Gardie Neely, Paul Rogers, and Richard Hurt. Larry Daugert, Gary Howard, and Joe Dane excelled on Mr. Higgins's fine swimming team, while Steve Arthur and Virlyn Moore helped shoot Mr. Wright's tremendous basketball team into the state tournament. Under Mr.

Sims' star tutelage, Bruce Logue, Paul Brown, Pete Mims, Richard Hurt, and Kirk Blackwood, along with starters Tommy Claiborne and Tom Meriwether performed skillfully on the soccer field. Gardie Neely, Marshall Schreeder, Curr Imrie, Randy Anderson, Tom Hanes, Bob Padgette, and Bill Stembler all earned wrestling letters. The Sophomore Class is certain to extend this fine record into the spring athletic season. It should place Thomas Benedict and Par Arnold on the tennis team, with Bruce Grant having good chances to join the golf squad. Other sophs have excellent chances of joining Taylor Branch, Steve Arthur, Billy Thurman, and Virlyn Moore to help Mr. Lloyd to another tremendous baseball season. Kirk Blackwood, Judson Simmons, Paul Rogers, George Wiley, Pete Mims, Charles Morgan, Kirk Rankin, and George Lawson should all fit into Mr. Koshewa's track plans.

Reduced considerably in size, the class of '65 continued their fine record by ably participating in all phases of school life. Led by President Milton Brannon, Vice-President Buddy Hitchcock, and Secretary-Treasurer Mike Drake, the class showed its potential by enthusiastically participating in both required and extra-curricular activities under its slogan of "self-reliance."

The ninth grade made an extraordinary showing in academics. Priding itself on few failures, the class studied conscientiously in a mood of seriousness. The freshmen realized that top honors were received through good grades. High scholastic honors went to Harry Ringel, George Beattie, and Robert Dornbush; Ringel scored one of the highest averages in the school with a 96.2.

In councils and organizations the students recommended changes when the need was apparent rather than adhere to conformity. They were ably represented the Student Council by Jim Bostick and Charles Cotton. Honor Council representatives were Richard Pugmire and Jim Tatman. The freshmen also participated in the French, Spanish, and Science Clubs, with several members in each. Bob Weiss and Robert Dornbush wrote for the Mark Sheet while George Beattie contributed to the Embryo.

In athletics ninth graders were on almost every varsity team, an unusual feat. Tommy Chapman made varsity football, and Richard Pugmire and Buzz Wisdom were standouts on the J. V. Milton Brannon, Graham Allen, and Earl Seagraves were exceptional on the grade teams. In varsity basketball Jim Bostick was first string and was the first freshman ever to make the Atlanta Tipoff Team. Graham Allen made the J. V. while Chuck Wilson, Mike Drake, Joe Worley and Andy Beard led the ninth grade. Freshmen were the backbone of the J. V. soccer team. Joel Osner won a wrestling letter, and Charles Cotton and Bobby McDonald were excellent varsity swimming material.

Our class had a very good year, and we are looking forward to broader horizons and an even finer performance in the future.

The Eighth Grade had a very successful year under the leadership of Rucker McCarty, President; Kelly Barge, Vice-President; and Jimmy Schaeffer, Secretary-Treasurer. Steve Dunlevie and Doug Bryant served on the Student Council, and Sam Fuller was the Honor Council representative.

Under the guidance of Mr. Flowers the sub-freshmen turned in their usual fine academic performance. Leaders on the Honor Roll were the following: Doug Bryant, Mark Pendergrast, Dan MacDougald, Brent Cohen, Joe Dorn, Steve Dunlevie, Brant Davis, and Rucker McCarty. Rat Week was enjoyed by all, a fact which will be realized more and more by the eighth-graders as the incident fades into the past.

The Eighth Grade football team attained a 5-1 record under the excellent supervision of Coach Flowers and Coach Lauderdale. The only loss of the season was to a tough Spalding team. The Wildkittens managed to score an average of 23 points a game and to hold their opponents to about seven points a game. The Captain was Sam Fuller; the Alternate Captain was Rucker McCarty. Outstanding players were Danny Fry, Steve Dunlevie, Reid Conyers, Mark Newton, and Rucker McCarty.

The Eighth Grade basketball team had a 13-4 season. Its members defeated Lovett, Grady, Headland, Milton, Avondale, Darlington, Pace, and Sumner Park. Outstanding players were Richard Howell, Kelly Barge, and Johnny Neely. The Eighth Grade round-ballers also participated in the Cobb and DeKalb invitational tournaments.

High scorer John Yow led the Eighth Grade soccer team to a 3-1 season. Pace was defeated twice, while the team split two with Darlington. The Cross Country squad, led by Curt Jameson and Kelly Barge, defeated its traditional rival Northside.

With such a fine record the eighth graders, are sure to do well in track, tennis, and other spring sports. The sub-freshmen have contributed greatly ro school life this year and are sure to be an asset in the years to come.

MRS. WEATHERLY

In 1957 there were two newcomers to Westminster, our class and you. We were shy then, and we knew you only as Mrs. Herbert's secretary; but once we gathered the courage to venture into the office, we became acquainted with your kindness and warm sincerity. During the past five years our appreciation and admiration have grown deeper. We are no longer timid eighth graders. We are looking toward college, toward new experiences and new friends; but we will never forget the comfort you gave us when we faced that terrible first detention, the smile that made the tenth schedule change so much easier, or the cheerful voice that answered our requests for an assignment or an aspirin.

Your time has never been too valuable, nor your patience too small, and now Mrs. Weatherly, our thanks cannot be too great. To you we dedicate our 1962 Lynx.

CLASSROOMS-OPPORTUNITIES FOR GROWTH

Inside the Thyrza Askew Building are found classes of many kinds and different sizes. Whether the assignment is a sketch of the new administration building or a chemistry project, the Westminster student is assured of her teacher's interest and guidance. Westminster provides small classes and individual attention. Student participation and discussion are vital parts of every course. Art, music, and laboratory equipment is modern and always available.

The Westminster student realizes the rewards of learning are not good grades alone, but a position on the Honor Roll is a worthy achievement, and the distinction is recognized.

SUB-FRESHMEN ENJOY FIRST YEAR

Sun-tanned from a glorious summer the eighth grade plunged into another year of school, but this time high school! Rat Week "shook them up a bit," but they survived. Now that it is over they really sit and laugh about it.

The class of '66 was outstanding in every field, and strove diligently to become an asset to the school. They won third place in the lapel contest. They didn't win anything for the Thanksgiving baskets, but their Mayflower was quite "shipshape." The class cheerleadets were led by Ginny Stubbs, who kept her classmates bright-faced and smiling. With the help of the cheerleaders the class came in third place for their song at Sing-Song. The basketball team had high spirits. Even though the class points were far behind, the Sub-freshmen enjoyed a delightful year.

Freshmen Develop Leadership

Under the fine leadership of Avis Barwick, the Class of '65 has shown its spirit and determination by winning first place for the skit in Sing Song, placing second in the Homecoming lapels, and third in the Thanksgiving basket.

The freshmen participated in all school activities and had representatives on many teams. Patti Wilhoit and Sandi Peery were members of the Varsity Baskerball team, while the Varsity Swimming team was proud to claim Dana Brooks. The class had many representatives on the Junior Varsity Baskerball and Tennis teams. Three freshmen, Laura Turman, Mary Lillian Savell, and Eleanor Horsey, were members of the Junior Varsity Cheerleading squad. The class maintained a high scholastic average throughout the year.

The Class of '65 has contributed much ro all phases of school life this year and looks forward ro even more accomplishments in the coming year.

Sophomores Successful At Sing Song

The Sophomore Class has accomplished many things this year. Exercising its musical and cheering ability, the class won first place in the song and second place in the cheer at Sing-Song. At Thanksgiving the class won second place for its basket. Many class members have participated on school teams such as the Varsity Basketball and Cheerleading squads. The sophomore Varsity Cheerleaders are Chatty Harris, Kay Kirkley, Beverly Baylor, Marie Ford, Mary Lander and, Cathy Porter. Rebecca Carpenter and Kathleen Hudson are on the Varsity Basketball team. The Sophomore Class has achieved high honors in both scholastic and athletic achievements.

Juniors Give $500 Fashion Show

The Junior Class began the 1961-62 school year with a fashion show-tea. Besides raising over $500 for the Junior-Senior, they increased the class spirit and unity. Led by their president, Lyndall Booth, they worked hard to win a second and two third places in Sing Song.

Members of the Class of '63 were active in all phases of school life. Nine juniors represented their class on the Varsity Basketball team, and there were seven juniors on the J. V. and Varsity Cheerleading squads. In the literary field there were seven juniors on the Chimes staff and three on the Lynx staff.

Four outstanding juniors, Lyndall Booth, Anne Brown, Isabella Hinds, and Paula Reid, were selected to apply for an American Field Service Scholarship for the summer. The class of 1962 elected Paula Reid their Junior Marshall.

HISTORY OF THE

The class of 1962 arrived at Westminster in 1957 as the largest in the school's history. Because the ideas and abilities of the members of our class were so varied, we were able to develop and exceed our great potential. Coming from many different backgrounds, not only did we have to adjust to the school, but also to each other. During our first years, our failure to appreciate and utilize this variety of talents often hindered us. But as we matured, we came to realize that our power as a class lay in the very factors we had resented.

After the weird gaieties of Rat Week, we settled down to serious work, chiefly that of filling our Miss Leonard's science worksheets, which, in later years, were forgotten for the tomes of Mrs. Sessions and Miss Ourler. This ton of paper work was turned out by Mrs. Weatherly and her mimeograph machine. Each year she has turned out more aspirin, mimeographed sheets, and smiles to our class. We will always remember this lady who directed us to classes then, and who has been our devoted and beloved friend ever since. We began an academic tradition that was later climaxed by higher College Board scores than those of any other senior class.

With Lucile Scoville as president, we entered enthusiastically into extra-curricular activities. Though we were not always victorious, we learned a valuable lesson: simplicity and unity are the basis of victory. Using this as a method of operation, we were able to win the Mardi Gras skit competition that year and two more glorious times. We met the challenge of athletics and laid a firm foundation for varsity playing. Also in the playing field, we went on our first class party. Under the assumption that we were establishing a tradition, we made our way to Ida Cason's for two successive years. This delusion was swept away in our sophomore year, and we have not been on an all-girl class party since. For the last three years the boys have condescended to bless us with co-ed class parties. We ended our first year flitting across the front lawn, African style, to the strains of May Day drums.

In the ninth grade we accomplished many things, but our achievements held little meaning, for we were not a united body with a common goal, backed by common efforts.

Mr. Blake and the Music class came to Westminster that year. Each day little herds trooped, through the mud, to the newly-constructed Music Hut, and returned singing such beloved tunes as "Six Green Bottles." He revolutionized the Music Department; his charming accent and RAF blazer drew many new members to the Glee Club, which subsequently produced a delightful operetta.

In sports, we contributed several varsity players. Lynne Rudder surprised herself and everyone else by making the Varsity Basketball team in her freshman year. Gretchen Brooks swam away with many medals. Unfortunately for the glory of the school, she eventually abandoned swimming and resorted to twisting. Lindy Howell's illustrious tennis career was then launched, and, in her junior year, she became captain of the varsity team.

Pat Gilham, destined to be Student Council president in our senior year, led the class. Under her leadership we were the second freshman class in the history of the school whose leading lady became Mardi Gras queen; Nancy Rittelmeyer reigned in the Westminster "Fantasyland."

In our freshman year, the perennial academic flowers— "Vandy" Freeman and Jorgensen, "Wellesley" Baxter, and "Swarthmore" Hocking—blossomed forth. And, like all other classes, we had our crop of ephemeral blooms who came and went.

May Day featured a circus, and many of our members were cast as trained monkeys. . . . The dancing ability of our class was revealed in such prima ballerinas as Margaret Windsor Horneffer, 'Milla Meyerson, Nell Theobald, and "Construction Boss" Edwards.

That year we were disorganized, a class of cliques. And yet, out of separate groups, individuals came forward to lead. Their efforts gave personality and purpose to our class.

Sophomore year was a combination of contrasts. Like the famous little girl, "when we were good, we were very, very good, and when we were bad . . ."

We carried on two successful charitable projects that year. We donated bus fare to the children at the Fairhaven School, and gave support to the Savannah Street Mission. Our work with Savannah Street was very rewarding for, not only did we distribute a great many clothes, but we also drew the attention of other charitable groups to the somewhat-neglected mission. Also that year, our food-filled canoe placed third in the Thanksgiving Basket competition.

Kay Baxter, ultimately to be our May Queen, was elected for the first year of her three-year term as president of our class. Laura Dorsey, the present captain, was our representative on the varsity cheerleading squad. Sally Angel and Lynne Rudder formed a valuable part of the varsity basketball team.

Eudora Simmons came to Westminster that year and began her victorious fight through Caesar's Gallic Wars. Her triumph over Cicero and Caesar was eclipsed only when she became editor of our annual in 1962. Miss Nonie joined the Hut staff, and her sparkling personality and helpful attitude have made her everyone's friend.

The close of the year 1959-1960 brought with it the turning point of our high school career. The lack of communication and understanding between the various cliques erupted in a falsified election. As a class and as a school, we were shocked and stunned by this overt act of disloyalty. But some good grew out of this seemingly irreconcilable situation. We were strong enough to accept the blow, and the shock was so great that we were forced to take a second look at ourselves. From this time on, we became a strongly united class, a class of friends who worked for and with each other.

Our junior year was the best we had ever had. After the avalanches of "sophomore slump," our work load seemed lighter and our whole outlook changed. We were working together and our goal was to be the best the school had ever seen. Our greatest triumph was in Mardi Gras. With Windy Horneffer as our Ice Maiden, we were the first class to win both the skit and float competitions.

Bo Diddley played at Jazz Weekend, and Laura Dorsey and Mary Mack Tharpe represented us on the court. Laura's lovely face also sparkled on the Homecoming court. At the Christmas dance, Camilla Meyerson and Duke Terrell, as Mr. and Mrs. Santa Clas, added a humorous touch to the festive occasion.

All the varsity teams—soccer, basketball, hockey, tumbling, and swimming—were well-stocked with members of our class. Eudora Simmons was voted Most Sportsmanlike, and Lindy Howell was Best First Year Player in basketball. Lucile Scoville and Ann Patton were the last of the class dolphins.

We formed the Ballad Club with Mrs. Hitchcock as sponsor, and the Symposium with Mrs. Smith. Everyone profited from the problem discussions with Mrs. Smith, and all who came loved the paint-and-supper party at Mrs. Hitchcock's. Many of our girls were active on the Lynx, Chimes, and Embryo staffs.

After years of Co-operative examinations, we were finally allowed into the inner sanctum of the PSAT's, SAT's, and, best of all, the Achievement examinations of the testing program of the CEEB. That year Dorsey Collins and Karen McCord entered Westminster.

The fall of 1961—seniors at last—commenced with the traditional Senior-Rat Barbeque. It was hard to believe that four years had passed since we had attended our first school function. We looked forward to a year of "jolly good fun." We were finally at the top, and we had every intention of staying there.

We settled down to the unsettled routine of ever-changing schedules. Almost immediately we stumbled upon two amazing discoveries: (1) the senior boys were not exactly what we had always supposed them to be; (2) whoever said that senior year is crip obviously never made it. And while we're on the subject, what is this about knowing the college of our first choice, our roommate's name, our dormitory number, our major, and the subject of our M.A. thesis (or Ph.D. dissertation) on the first day of school?

Our hopes for senior year were well realized; we led the school in every activity and made an excellent showing on the Honor Roll. We surged ahead in class points with our first-place victories in Sing-Song, Thanksgiving Baskets, and Homecoming lapels—we finally placed! Our Sing-Song glory was increased by the alleged cheer entered by the senior boys: "Bo-bo . . ."

What with filling our "multivoluminous" forms and checks for the CEEB and guarding our section of the parking lot, this final fall sped by, and it was suddenly Christmas. Christmas carols resounded throughout the school; however, in the environs of a certain Senior all-purpose room, the undying strains of "The Bonnie Blue Flag" triumphed over the celestial student singing.

We hoped our second semester—post-exams, post-Introduction to College Algebra, post-Cole, post-Newell, and "Post hoc propter hoc"—would bring some relief from labor. Unfortunately our academic burden was not reduced, but the atmosphere was brightened by our Mardi Gras victory and the arrivals of college acceptance notices. Other spirit-boosters were the Outler lunch debates, liberally sprinkled with tales of our predecessors, and the Room 3 Provision Pantry. Filled with information and raisins we eagerly await our revised May Day and graduation.

Our five years in high school have been years of growth and education, years in which we have changed from children to young women. We have made many dear friends-both students and teachers-in the semesters since 1957, and it is with great regret that we part from them, in some cases forever. High school is in many ways a gay and joyous time, but it is also a time of hard work, great pressures, heavy competition, and crushing disappointments. When we look back over the past five years, we sometimes wonder how we made it through all the important academic work and disagreements that drained the strength of our class. Though we would not wish to go through it all again, there is one year which none of us would trade for anything in the world, senior year. This last year has been the sweetest, friendliest, "funnest," and most harmonious year that we have ever experienced, as individuals or as a class. We deeply thank Westminster, as a complete school and as separate personalities, for the education and insight we have received. But most of all, we thank you and every girl in the class of '62 for our wonderful, wonderful senior year.

May Court

Each year the senior class at Westminster honors in its May Court nine outstanding girls. This unique court combines heritages from North Avenue Presbyterian School for Girls and Washington Seminary. The four qualities, Nobility, Ability, Play, and Service, which receive special tribute in the May Court have evolved from the initials of the North Avenue Presbyterian School. The selection of four representative seniors is a tradition from Washington Seminary. Each of the members of the court has gained her position through her very special loveliness and may always be proud of the honor.

Nobility . . . Kay presides over Honor Council.

Ability . . . Kay receives versatility award.

Play . . . Kay lunges for an ace.

Service . . . Kay conducts class meeting.

The Queen

A tribute to Westminster's heritage, our queen is the embodiment of four superlative qualities, Nobility, Ability, Play, and Service. In her years at Westminster Kay has shown true nobility, always exhibiting dignity and integrity in every undertaking. Kay's election to the National Honor Society in her senior year is evidence of the confidence and trust the faculty has placed in her. Representing her class on the Honor Council, Kay was chosen president, a clear indication of the respect she has earned from her fellow students.

Kay's ability in many fields is always guided by her intelligence. Her scholastic achievements were acknowledged by medals and recognition on the honor roll. In her senior year she was a National Merit Scholarship finalist. Her versatile accomplishments make her truly a queen. She is the first STAR student of Westminster

Girls School.

Kay's interest in athletics has been not only active but also unselfish. For four years she contributed a great deal of time and effort to Westminster's Varsity Tennis team. During her senior year, she added to this responsibility that of managing the Varsity Basketball team. The school's basketball games would have been incomplete without her presence on the score-keeper's stand.

Service has marked Kay's entire career at Westminster. In her freshman year she served her class as vice-president. The following year she became president of the class and held the office as a junior and senior. In this office Kay not only delegated responsibility but also contributed her time and effort to every project. The services Kay has rendered to her class are exceeded only by those to her school. Serving on the Student Cabinet for three years, she never failed to meet the demands that were made of her. Unselfish and dedicated, our queen commands respect not by authority but by humility.

KAY BAXTER

PATRICIA GILHAM

As Student Council President, Patricia presided over Tuesday assemblies.

Nobility

In her first two years at Westminster, Patricia gained recognition from her class as they elected her the Most Representative member of the class. The Dorothy Partridge Cup for admirable leader ship and the Gladys Neal Cup for outstanding character were also awarded Patricia. Her senio year, the student body elected her simultaneously president of the Student Council, and of the Student Cabinet and to membership on the Hono Council. Yet the greatest measure of Patricia' character lies in the way she always holds her higl offices with dignity and humility.

Ability

Eudora's ability extends into many fields. She showed her athletic capacity in B-team and. Varsity Basketball and demonstrated, in all competition, the sportsmanship, for which she received a trophy. She served the student body on the Honor Council and the Student Cabinet. Participation in a variety of clubs, membetship on several honor societies, and her work on the annual reflected her wide range of interests. She is effective as a leader because practical intelligence and calmness guide her versatility.

Eudora edited Lynx.

EUDORA SIMMONS

LINDY HOWELL

Lindy played on Varsity basketball team.

Play

Although interested in many sports, Lindy excelled in tennis and basketball. After one year on the Junior Varsity Tennis team, she moved up to varsity in the ninth grade. In that year she also joined the Junior Varsity Basketball team and became a varsity player two years later. For two successive years she received both the regional and stare AA doubles tennis championships. In her senior year, functioning as co-captain of the Basketball team and captain of the Tennis team, she became assistant sports editor of the school newspaper. Her love of athletics and sportsmanship are evident not only on the tennis or basketball court, but wherever she is.

Service

Maren has unselfishly devoted her energies to class and school projects not only when she was called upon, but also when she felt she was needed. She was a member of Student Council, the Quest Club, and the Art Club. As a sophomore she was an enthusiastic class secretary. On the staff of the Chimes she worked consistently and with patience and devotion. As co-editor of the paper, Maren's work and endless imagination made the Chimes an outstanding example of high school journalism, and a publication eagerly awaited by every student. Maren has discovered the joy of serving others, and is worthy of her position of honor.

Maren co-edited the Chimes.

Physical Education Arthletic Council Teams May Day

Varsity basketball practice

This year for the first time at Westminster a physical education class was required for all students not participating in afternoon athletics or a team sport. The program included basketball, volleyball, a physical fitness course, and other athletic activities. In October every girl was required to take and pass a 100 yard swimming test. All who failed took remedial swimming until they could pass the test.

The afternoon athletics program, also meeting twice a week, included Miss Nancy's contemporary dance group, beginning and intermediate tennis, swimming, soccer, and hockey as well as the varisty and junior varsity basketball, tennis, and swimming teams.

Mrs. Thornton, head of the Athletic Department, supervised all sports programs and inter-class competitions. Following a grand production of May Day, the classes ended the athletic year with Field Day, the final competition for the Athletic Cup.

Athletic Council Sponsors Inter-Class Sports

The greatest stimulus to athletic participation and school spirit at Westminster is provided by the Athletic Council. It has grown from a club formed to encourage a greater student support at football and basketball games, to a large organization which plans sports activities and supervises intramural contests.

Since 1953 the Athletic Council has awarded a cup to the class showing the greatest school spirit and athletic ability. This year the homeroom representatives increased the attendance at varsity sports' events by making original lapels for their classmates. The athletic year ended with the Spring Sports Banquet and the awarding of letters and trophies to students who had excelled in athletics.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS WORK YEAR ROUND

From the first football game in the fall until the last basketball game in the spring, the varsity cheerleaders succeeded in raising school spirit for the winning Wildcat team. This willingness to work promoted enthusiasm in all the students as well as the players themselves. Their job is not an easy one nor their responsibilities small. Their effort and its results will long be remembered.

Varsity Team Undefeated

For three straight years Westminster's Varsity Tennis team has remained undefeated in competition in the Southeast. While the team held top rank in region AA, Eleanor Howell was state singles' champion, and Heidi Ager and Lindy Howell were the doubles' champions. The team extended its victories into several states on its annual spring tour. They stormed the campus of Florida State University and smashed the varsity team there, an amazing feat, particularly for a team composed mostly of juniors. Then the team moved on to Belton, South Carolina, where they crushed the varsity team. This defeat was the first handed that perennial power in twenty years. Mrs. John Moore has coached this spectacular team for the past several years. Lindy Howell was captain of the team, which received tournament invitations from all over Georgia. The team has been in every respect a tremendous credit to the school.

J. V. Gets Ready

While the Varsity Tennis team was taking honors all over the Southeast, the Junior Varsity team was preparing a number of girls for future varsity teams. A large number of girls were on the J. V. this year. The team operated on a challenge ladder to give all the girls experience in competition, and to encourage the aggressive spirit which has always marked Westminster's teams. June Metzger held the top position on the challenge ladder for the year; Mary Ann Kilpatrick, second; Isabella Hinds, third; Mary Hay, fourth; and Suzie McCloud, fifth. The second half of the top ten was comprised of Nancy Rittelmeyer, Marion Blalock, Mariea Sibley, Reneau Matthews, and Patty Warkentin. The J. V., coached by Mrs. John Moore, gave every indication of developing into a varsity team fully qualified to succeed the champions of other years.

EIGHTH GRADE PRODUCES PROMISING TEAM

Jane Wood, with 35 points, led the scoring of the Eighth Grade Basketball team during their five game season. Its 2-3 record does not accurately indicate the ability of the team, and Mrs. Thornton predicts great things of its members. Future varsities will profit from the experience that these girls have gained.

All of the team members played often and well. Mary Schneider, Ann Dorsey Yearly, and Linda Duke contributed greatly to the offensive play, while guards Debbie Gould and Anne Ballard were defensive standouts.

DOUGLAS COUNTY GAME HIGHLIGHT OF JUNIOR VARSITY SEASON

The highlight of the Junior Varsity Basketball season was a trip to Douglasville where the team defeated Douglas County. Other games during the year witnessed excellent playing, also.

Since the team was a small one, all the members played often. However, the first string consisted of forwards Peggy Daole, Sandy Hall, Sally Nevin, and Sally Stalker. The defensive stars were Dulane Ponder, Gloria Horton, and Paula Reid. Mr. Lloyd coached the girls, and was impressed with their ability.

Basketball Has Successful Season

The Varsity Basketball team has had a successful season this year. Coached by Mr. Lloyd and managed by Kay Baxter, Ginny Neely, and Shelby Mills, the girls practiced from 4:30 until 6:00 in order to use the big gym. Alice Chalmers and Lindy Howell led the team as co-captains. Lindy and Sandi Peery were the high scorers with a 12.6 and a 12.8 average respectively.

and a 12.8 average respectively.

At the banquet held at the end of the season the most outstanding players were recognized. Josie Carpenter received the Most Valuable Player award. The Service Trophy was given to Lindy Howell. Best First Year Player was Sandi Peery, and Kathleen Hudson was chosen Most Sportsmanlike.

HOCKEY TEAM PROVES POPULAR

Twenty-four energetic girls from sub-freshmen to seniors played field hockey on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons this year. Equipped with shin guards, balls, sticks, and plenty of spirit, they played intrasquad games with zest and skill comparable to that of a professional team. During the year the team met Agnes Scott, their only interscholastic competition. This group, guided by Mrs. John Moore, was one of the most popular winter athletic teams.

SOCCER TEAM ORGANIZED

Westminster's first soccer team was composed of twelve girls who enjoyed fast, spirited action. Mrs. Moore helped the girls learn to play skillfully. Meeting on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, they learned not only the maneuvers of an excellent game, but also the joy of team work and cooperation.

SWIMMING TEAM SPLASHES TO FAME

Too little recognition is given to Westminster's Girls' swimming team. Individual members are well known. Nancy Barwick is State Champion in the 100 yard free style and butterfly and holds the metropolitan title in the 50 yard free style. Freshman Dana Brooks possesses the metropolitan record in the hundred yard breast stroke. The team holds a second place in both the Southeastern and Atlanta Metropolitan Swimming Associations. The girls begin working out in the fall, and actual meets take place in the spring. Needless to say the team, coached by Mr. Higgins, has an extremely promising future.

May Day-1962

"Let us hold a contest here so that each of us may present to you the ways mortals have profited by our gifts."

On a lovely May afternoon, the three Graces made this proposal to Zeus, and May Day 1962 swirled before the lofty columns of the Administration Building. The Muses of Drama, Physical Fitness, Art, Dance, History, and Literature competed for the prize of a beautiful shrine.

Pageantry was the hallmark of this year's presentation. Flowing robes, gaudy chariots, graceful ballerinas, and a tramping army passed for the admiration of Zeus and the Senior Class of 1962.

When each contestant had displayed her gift, Zeus was deeply perplexed. After long consideration, he decided that the shrine should be dedicated, not to a single Muse, but in honor of all the gifts.

"Separately your powers are a beginning; rogether they are a fulfillment."

This was a May Day that will long be remembered at Westminster. Innovations such as an active plot and pantomimed sequences made this presentation one that will live in the minds of all who participated and all who were entertained.

Student Council Unites School

Westminster's Student Council is a strong and active one. It sets the standards for the school and gives the students opportunities to voice their own opinions. It serves as a strong link between the two schools.

Teacher appreciation week, Quiet Day, a panel discussion on facultystudent relationships were among the valuable contributions of the organization. Other very worthwhile projects of the council were a lost and found department, a suggestion box, a servants' Christmas fund, and various dances throughout the year. Clayton Latimer headed a committee which produced the always appreciated student handbooks. At Christmas Student Council supervised the collection and distribution of stockings filled by students for underprivileged children. Mrs. Gilchrist sponsored this most vital organization.

Service Council Promotes New Fund Drive

Helping the less fortunate and encouraging a spirit of generosity are the goals of the Service Council. This year for the first time the Council removed its Annual Fund Drive from class competition in keeping with the belief that giving is an expression of concern for others. The response to this change was gratifying. Part of the funds were used to support a foster child, Anna Maria Buratti. This little girl has come to know not only the generosity of Westminster, but also its warmth and friendliness through letters from Service Council members. The quantities of food collected from the Council's class competition in Thanksgiving baskets benefited several needy families. At Christmas, in cooperation with the Student Council, the organization filled stockings for underprivileged children. The members brightened Valentine's Day at the Atlanta Child's Home with a gay party. From month to month the Service Council worked closely with the High School Red Cross in the aim to promote throughout the school the desire to share.

STUDENT CABINET BUILDS SCHOOL COORDINATION

Composed of the presidents of the five classes and the three councils, the editors of the Lynx and the Chimes, and the captain of the cheerleaders, the Student Cabinet has supervised many of the activities of the year. Among the responsibilities of the organization were the Tuesday assemblies, the bulletin board, and the Winter Dance. The council, sponsored by Mrs. Herbert, met one Thursday each month. At the end of the year it wrote a summary report for the school year and submitted it to the administration.

Its members are the predents of the four upper classes, the president and vic president of Student Council, and a member elected large from the student body. PI SIGMA KAPPA SELECTS FIVE

The Westminster chapter of Pi Sigma Kappa, a national scholastic honorary society, was founded by Miss Frances Hatcher in 1924. Membership is limited to the girls who have maintained an A average in their sophomore and junior years. The purpose of the organization, whose name means "increased in wisdom," is to promote academic achievement.

As the project this year the members entertained ten ladies from Eventide at a luncheon following the Westminster Christmas program.

This Spring sixteen junior and senior girls from the Chimes and Lynx staffs were admitted to Quill and Scroll, a national journalistic honor society. These girls had demonstrated outstanding ability and interest in the editorial or business management of Westminster's publications and had maintained a B average in all academic subjects. Quill and Scroll is sponsored by Miss Catherine Parker, the Chimes Adviser, and Mrs. Sidney Anderson, Adviser to the Lynx.

SCRIPTO ENCOURAGES CREATIVE WRITING

The Scripto Club is an organization composed of juniors and seniors who are interested in both the reading and writing of literature. The purpose of the Scripto Club is three-fold: to promote creative writing in the student body, to provide constructive criticism for aspiring writers and open their minds to new ideas, and to supply material for and increase interest in the school literary magazine, the Embryo. Through the Scripto Club, literary interes and creative thinking are made vital parts of the school life.

MATH CLUB ADMITS SOPHOMORES

Through membership in Mu Alpha Theta, Westminster students have discovered that math can be a living subject. The aim of this honorary club, for girls with at least a general average of B and a B_+ in math, is to stimulate knowledge, enjoyment, and understanding of mathematics. Sponsored by Mrs. George Chapman, the group is composed of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Programs have included logic problems, speakers, and reports on the history of mathematics.

FRENCH CLUB FORMED

The newly formed French Club began the year by holding informative discussions in French. This gave the members, who by requirement had already taken several years of the language, practice in speaking it. The club tried to gain greater understanding of the French culture and people by personal contacts with natives of France. The club was sponsored by Mme. Close.

SPANISH CLUB MAKES PINATAS

Organized this year, the Spanish Club, La Tertulia Española, had an active program. Its purpose was to promote interest in Spanish culture and to achieve greater understanding of the Spanish people. A highlight of the club's activities was an assembly featuring Dr. Cesar Salas, a former professor at the University of Havana.

Symposium Proves Helpful

In 1961 a group of junior girls organized a philosophy club for the purpose of discussing their own ideas and those of the world's great thinkers. Called The Symposium, the club has continued to meet on Sunday afternoons this year. As the members now prepare for college, they realize that their conversations and activities have been very profitable, and they recommend that next year's seniors organize a similar group. Mrs. Smith's patience and advice have been invaluable, and the club deeply appreciates her devotion to its development.

Arrangements for the hall table and holiday decorations were only two of the projects of the Art Club this year. Art students displayed many of their attractive paintings and ceramic figurines, and at Christmas they decorated a beautiful tree in the front hall. All girls taking art are eligible for membership in the organization. Mrs. Whitman and Mrs. Heatley sponsored the club.

BIBLE CLUB AIDS FAIRHAVEN

Membership in the Bible Club, sponsored by Mrs. William L. Pressly, is open to any sophomore, junior or senior who wishes to increase her knowledge of the Bible, exemplify Westminster's motto, and apply the teachings of Christ to her daily life.

For its project the club worked with the Fairhaven School for mentally retarded children. The members made scarves and flash cards for therapeutic work.

QUEST CLUB MAKES CHRISTMAS TREES

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all of these things shall be added unto you." The Quest Club composed of eighth and ninth graders, and sponsored by Mrs. Dudley, seeks to supplement and complete the Bible course. This year as a project the club members decorated Christmas trees for Egleston Hospital.

LYNX MAKES MANY CHANGES

Many changes were made in the 1962 Lynx. Although the Boys' School was given precedence in position, the Girls' School greatly improved the organization of their section. The May Court was presented in a different manner in order to show its purpose and place in the life of the school. The scholastic and curricular activities were more highly emphasized than in previous years. Special thanks go to Dusty Lee for her photography.

The staff realizes that the best judge of its efforts is the student body. It submits the 1962 Lynx with the hope that the school life of this year has been pleasingly and accurately depicted.

CHIMES STAFF CONTINUES FINE TRADITION

A better newspaper than ever before was the goal of the 1961-'62 Chimes staff. The paper not only kept students and faculty informed on important activities, but also provided lighter enjoyment in such columns as "Westminster Woods." Every issue had a lead story of special interest, from the announcement of the May Court to the coverage of the student government elections. An excellent editorial page was dedicated to such topics as excessive homework, student responsibilities, and the controversial Twist.

The editors attended a journalistic conference at WSB in November, and in May the entire staff went to the Georgia Scholastic Press Association meeting in Athens.

The staff was composed of juniors and seniors and directed by Miss Catherine Parker. It met four times each week during eighth period, and produced a newspaper about every six weeks.

How good was Grandma's bread?

The homemade bread of 20 years ago was a good loaf. Yet it was not nearly so good a nutritional "buy" as today's modern enriched bread, which contributes:

- 4½ times more thiamine
- 4 times more calcium
- 3 times more iron and niacin

No wonder medical scientists say enrichment of bread is as important to public health as pasteurization of milk and correction of unsafe water supplies.

Southern goes further. In addition to finest ingredients and baking skill, plus enrichment, Southern safeguards quality in 3 ways. Two famous testing laboratories regularly check our oven samples and report to us. This in addition to close daily supervision by our own quality-control laboratory.

Today, more than ever, there's no finer nutritional "buy" than Southern bread... the family favorite in millions of homes for more than 30 years.
